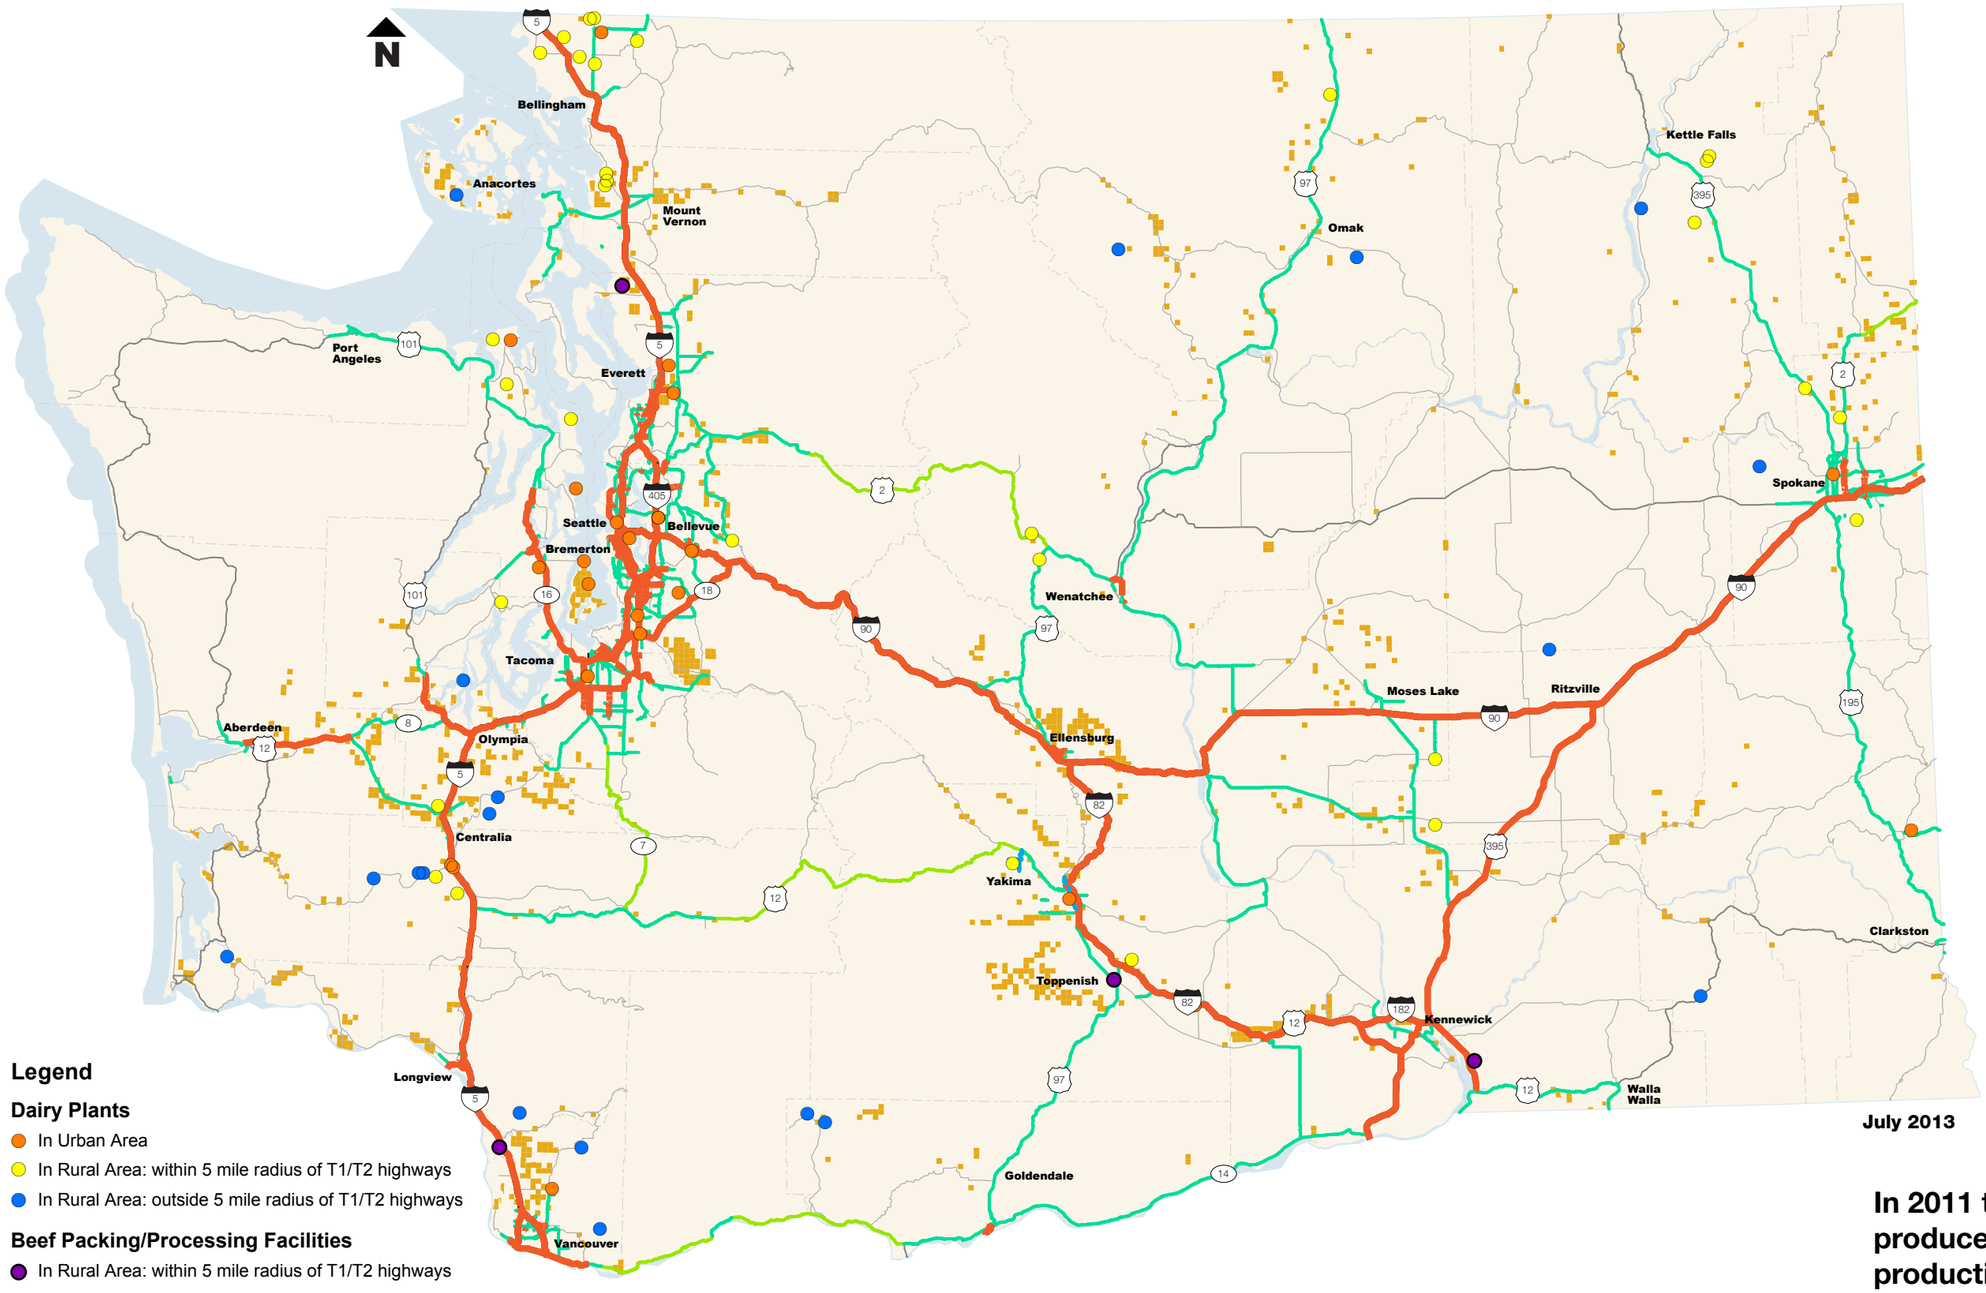
Dairy Plants and Beef Processing Facilities Concentrated along Washington State Freight Corridors



Washington State Department of Transportation

July 2013

Legend

Dairy Plants

- In Urban Area
- In Rural Area: within 5 mile radius of T1/T2 highways
- In Rural Area: outside 5 mile radius of T1/T2 highways

Beef Packing/Processing Facilities

- In Rural Area: within 5 mile radius of T1/T2 highways

Freight Economic Corridors

- T1 Truck Freight Economic Corridors: Freight corridors carrying more than 10 million tons per year
- T2 Truck Freight Economic Corridors: Freight corridors carrying 4 million to 10 million tons per year
- Alternative Freight Economic Corridors: Corridors carrying 600,000 to 4 million tons per year and serve as alternatives to T1 freight routes
- Pasture

Source: Washington State Department of Agriculture; Washington State Freight Goods Transportation System

In 2011 the top 4 agricultural commodities produced in Washington State by value of production were:

Apples[1]	$1.83 (billion)
Milk	$1.28 (billion)
Wheat	$1.14 (billion)
Potatoes	$771 (million)

[1] First in U.S. production.