

Seismic Acceleration Zones

This data shows peak horizontal ground acceleration (the fastest measured change in speed, for a particle at ground level that is moving horizontally due to an earthquake) with a 10% probability of exceedence in 50 years. In other words, the higher the number, the faster the ground movement during an earthquake, thus the higher the likelihood of structure failure or damage.