

I think helping the wildlife cross the road safely is a good idea because wildlife (animals) help us in many ways and provide us with food, all of our dairy products and they eat bad things that are bad to humans. They also help plant trees because when an animal eats a plum it poops out the plum seeds in a different area which grows a tree, and trees help humans breathe.

Jack Gellatly
Open Window School
Bellevue, WA