

The Washington Transportation Plan 2007-2026 Preliminary Feedback

Yakima Public Outreach - Tuesday, July 25, 2006

The plan should address the obesity epidemic, by designing roads to accommodate biking and walking. Additional standards should be used to encourage this in communities.

Thanks to the Commission, volunteers, the Regional Transportation Planning Organizations, and the grassroots organizations for working on the plan.

A tunnel through Snoqualmie Pass is important.

Many are saying that preservation is a priority, but it's not in the Vision Statement—should it be?

Have you examined how the use of different de-icers corrode the wheels of vehicles? And what are the impacts of these de-icer solutions to our bridges?

Is anyone researching elevated roadways with jet propulsion or other futuristic technologies?
