

SR 169 Safety Study OPEN HOUSE

Project background

State Route 169 runs between the cities of Renton and Enumclaw and is a vital north-south Puget Sound commuter and freight route. Rapid growth and development in the area have resulted in peak-hour congestion that places significant demand on the highway system.

The SR 169 safety study will evaluate safety performance and identify potential safety investments and recommendations for improvements in unincorporated King County between the city limits of Renton and Maple Valley. While several cost-effective safety changes have been made to SR 169 in the past, we are seeking public input for additional ways to reduce serious injuries and fatal crashes along this corridor.

What's next?

Working with the neighboring community and the corridor's daily users, WSDOT will evaluate the potential for serious injuries and fatal crashes on this stretch of SR 169 and develop recommendations for possible safety investments.

WSDOT will use public input, along with a detailed crash analysis, to develop recommendations and submit a report to the Legislature at the end of 2016.
