Pioneer Square's First Thursday Art Walk

Nov 1

Construction: A Look Back, A Look Ahead

Matt Preedy, Alaskan Way Viaduct Replacement Program Deputy Program Administrator

6 to 6:30 p.m.

It's been a busy year for the Alaskan Way Viaduct replacement. Join us as we recap construction highlights from 2012. You'll also get a sneak peek at what's coming up in 2013, including the arrival of the boring machine and the start of tunneling!

Dec 6

Elliott Bay Seawall Project: Below the Surface

Jennifer Wieland, Seattle Department of Transportation Project Manager

6 to 6:30 p.m.

Join us for a special guest presentation about the Elliott Bay Seawall Project and learn how the City of Seattle is working to improve this vital piece of infrastructure, while also restoring fish habitat and connections to the water.

Through May, free parking is available for First Thursday art walk patrons in Pioneer Square. Visit FirstThursdaySeattle.com for more information about participating garages.

Digging Through the Past

Kevin Bartoy, Washington State Department of Transportation Cultural Resources Specialist

6 to 6:30 p.m.

Join us for a talk about archaeology, a brief history of the viaduct replacement work site in SODO and Pioneer Square, and the role of archaeologists during construction. This is a chance to see some recovered historical items that provide a view into the area's past.

211 First Avenue South | Free admission

Milepost 31 is an award-winning information center that celebrates the people and projects that shaped Pioneer Square and provides an inside look at the SR 99 Tunnel Project. Learn more about the project from experts in the field at the speaker series.
