

1
2
3
4
5

(August 3, 2015)

If the Contractor is utilizing casing that is adequately sealed into competent soils such that the water cannot enter the excavation, the Contractor may, with the Engineer's permission, continue excavation in wet soils without slurry provided the water level within the casing does not rise or exhibit flow.