Beginning Sunday, October 14, surface Alaskan Way will shift to the west side of the viaduct. This will keep the road open during the upcoming SR 99 closure, viaduct removal and the City's construction of a new Alaskan Way in the footprint of the viaduct. Here's what to expect:

- To accommodate this shift, Alaskan Way will be fully closed from 8 p.m. Saturday, October 13 until 10 a.m. Sunday, October 14. Please follow signed detour routes.
- At 10 a.m. Sunday, crews will reopen Alaskan Way in its new position west of the viaduct. The map below shows this configuration of Alaskan Way. When viaduct removal begins in early 2019, construction zones may reduce the road to one lane in each direction in places.
- There will be lane closures on Alaskan Way near Pike St to accommodate Pier 62 construction and utility work.

LANE CLOSURES NEAR PIKE ST

- The crosswalk at Pike St will close on Saturday, October 13 and reopen by Sunday, October 14. During the closure, pedestrians will be detoured one block south to Union St.
- When Alaskan Way reopens on Sunday, Alaskan Way will be narrowed to one lane, controlled by flaggers, from Union St to just north of Pine St. By Monday morning, once paving and pavement markings are installed, Alaskan Way will open to one lane in each direction and remain in this configuration for an additional six weeks to allow for utility and signal work.
- Towards the end of November, Alaskan Way around Pike St will expand to two lanes in each direction.
