

Lowering the water pressure near Bertha

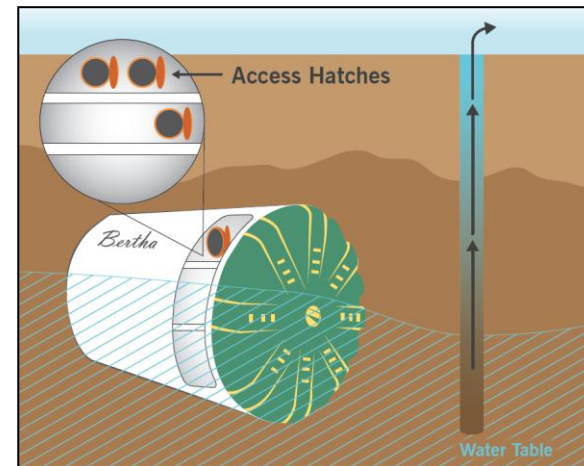

Conditions when tunneling stopped on Dec. 6.

Crews started installing wells on Dec. 11.

More than 300,000 gallons have been pumped out of the ground to date.

Crews hope to perform a more thorough inspection by early January.